SECTION: A Unseen Comprehension Passage

On 5th September, we celebrate Teacher's Day in honour of the teachers who guide us to make our future bright by giving us proper guidance and knowledge. 5th September happens to be the birthday of a great educationist, Dr S Radhakrishnan, who was the second President of India. This year, Teacher's Day began with a school assembly in the Hall where the Headmistress delivered a speech. After that we gathered in our class, not to study but to enjoy ourselves. The senior class students represented themselves as teachers. Our class students arranged a small party for the teachers who taught us. Then, we had a round of eating and playing games with our teachers. Most of the teachers were very sporting, and we fully enjoyed with them. After all, it was their day to enjoy and have fun.
